D-BACKS ORGANIZATION

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

A THRILLING RUN

THE FIRST 12 YEARS OF D-BACKS BASEBALL

With 12 full seasons in the books, the Arizona Diamondbacks begin their 13th campaign in an attempt to build on what has been — by many measures — the most successful early run anyone has ever seen from an expansion franchise.

In its first 12 years, Arizona has had seven winning seasons, four division titles and playoff appearances, and of course, a World Series championship in 2001, the franchise's fourth season. The D-backs were the fastest club to ever win a World Series, and the fastest to 100 wins, which they reached in their second season in 1999.

There were many superb individual achievements, most notably Randy Johnson's perfect game against Atlanta in 2004 and his four consecutive Cy Young awards, Luis Gonzalez's 57 home runs in 2001 and 30-game hitting streak in 1999, Brandon Webb's Cy Young in 2006 and Justin Upon reaching the All-Star Game at just 21 years old in 2009.

It was, in short, a 12-year span that was anything but dull.

Of course, although the D-backs are 12 years old as a competitive entity, they were actually born 15 years ago on March 13, 1995, when Major League Baseball awarded franchises to Arizona and Tampa Bay at a record cost of $130 million per franchise.

And the foundation for the Valley's entry into MLB had actually been laid five years before that when the Arizona Legislature passed a bill authoring Maricopa County to assess a quarter-cent sales tax for the express purpose of building a baseball-only facility.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for an air conditioned $354 million downtown structure complete with retractable roof, swimming pool in right field, and nostalgic dirt path between the mound and home plate were held Nov. 16, and included the novelty of an actual game between two Little League teams on a specially built kids-size field.

With Opening Day still some three years away, Buck Showalter, late of the New York Yankees, was hired as the team's first manager.

The assembling of the team officially began with the selection of left-handed pitcher Nick Bierbrodt in the team's first-ever amateur draft in 1996, and the signings of first baseman Travis Lee and pitcher John Patterson.

Shortly thereafter, infielder Jay Bell of the Kansas City Royals became the first Major League player to sign with the team, and lefthander Brian Anderson of the Cleveland Indians was the first player chosen by the team in the expansion draft.

Finally, the big day everybody had been waiting for arrived — March 31, 1998, Opening Night at Bank One Ballpark.

Opening ceremonies included a tribute to the late Jackie Robinson, and two youngsters escorted to the mound by then-Owner Jerry Colangelo threw out the first ball. One of the loudest cheers of the night from the overflow crowd of 50,179 was for the opening of the roof to the accompaniment of stirring music.

The Colorado Rockies were the parties of the second part, Andy Benes was the D-backs' starting pitcher, and Lee got the team's first hit and also hit the team's first home run.

This was the start of a great "honeymoon" for the team, and nobody was the least bit surprised or even slightly bothered when it lost 31 of its first 40 games.

And it's not like there weren't any highlights. Center fielder Devon White drove in 85 runs, stole 22 bases, and tied with Lee for the club lead in home runs with 22. Benes won 14 games.

Omar Daal was 8-12, but had a fine 2.88 ERA, and Gregg Olson's 30 saves earned him club Pitcher of The Year honors. David Dellucci, who quickly became a fan favorite with his acrobatic catches in the outfield, hit a solid .260.

As a team, the D-backs finished strong, playing .500 ball over the final 24 games, including a an expansion record-tying seven-game winning streak in September, and finished at 65-97, which left them last in the N.L. West, but was quite respectable for an expansion team.

The club also had 21 sellouts and drew 3,602,586 fans, and everybody went home for the winter happy with the team's first season.

During the offseason, the D-backs went on a spending spree that netted pitchers Randy Johnson, Armando Reynoso, and Greg Swindell, and center fielder Steve Finley. Then-General Manager Joe Garagiola Jr. acquired Gonzalez and Tony Womack in trades that turned out to be steals. And during the season he reeled in Marlins closer Matt Mantei.

Gonzalez, who came over from Detroit with a nice chunk of cash in exchange for outfielder Karim Garcia, would become the face of the franchise and deliver the winning hit off closer Mariano Rivera in Game 7 of the 2001 World Series. And Womack would have some good years here and deliver two of the biggest hits in franchise history in the playoffs that year.

But the rest, as they say, is history.

Johnson went on to lead the Majors in strikeouts (364) and complete games, and would go on to win 17 games and the first of his four Cy Young Awards here while posting a 2.48 ERA.

Gonzalez, meanwhile, had one of several career years he would fashion with the D-backs, hitting .336, with 26 home runs and 111 RBI, and putting together that hitting streak.

And he had plenty of help. Matt Williams hit 35 home runs and had 142 RBI, and Bell was good for 38 and 112. Womack stole 72 bases while hitting .277, Daal won 16 games, Reynoso added 10, and Mantei saved 22 while striking out 49 in 29 innings as the D-backs went from 65 wins to 100 to take the West by a landslide.

They lost their first-ever playoff game to the New York Mets, 8-4, but came back behind some gutsy pitching by Stottlemyre and five RBI by Finley to win Game 2, 7-1. With the Division Series moving to New York, the Mets won Game 3, 9-2, and then won the series in Game 4, 4-3.

The 2000 campaign was most notable for another great award-winning season from Johnson and the in-season acquisition of pitcher Curt Schilling. Although the Phillies ace wasn't fully recovered from injuries, he still went 5-6 the balance of the year here, and of course teamed with Johnson to form one of the most potent one-two punches ever.

As for Johnson, he again led the Majors in strikeouts (347) and tied for the league lead in complete games (eight) and shutouts (three) while putting together a 19-7 record and 2.64 ERA.

Gonzalez did his bit, hitting 31 home runs and again driving in over 100, but otherwise, due mostly to a series of injuries, especially to slugger Williams and closer Mantei, the D-backs had a 15-victory drop off and slipped to third in the West.

The disappointing season led to the dismissal of Showalter, with Bob Brenly coming down from the broadcast booth to take over as manager — and the stage was set for one of the greatest seasons in the history of Arizona sports.

There will never be another year like 2001. This is not to say the D-backs will never win another World Series, but rather that there will never be an experience as exhilarating as that first one, especially when you factor in the Yankees, the grim background of Sept. 11, and the dramatic twists and turns of the series itself.

The regular season was exciting enough, what with Gonzalez hitting those 57 home runs and driving in 142, Johnson racking up a third-straight Cy Young Award with 21-6 mark and a 2.49 ERA and Schilling going 22-6 and 2.98.

But the fun was just beginning.

The D-backs took out the St. Louis Cardinals in the Division Series, with Womack delivering the key hit in Game 5, then blew the Atlanta Braves away in five games in the Championship Series. And now it was the upstart D-backs, who were all of four years old, against the lords of the realm, the Yankees.

Schilling and the upstarts overpowered the Yankees 9-1 in Game 1 here, and won Game 2 behind Johnson 4-0. With the series shifting to Yankee Stadium in the very shadow of Ground Zero, the "aura" and "mystique" of the Bombers that Schilling had poked fun at seemed to kick in. The Yanks won Game 3 in fairly routine fashion, 2-1, behind Roger Clemens and Mariano Rivera, but the next night, with the Yanks down 3-1 and two out in the ninth, Tino Martinez hit a two-run home run off Byung-Hyun Kim, and Derek Jeter drove in the winning run with a fly ball in the 10th.

The following night, with the series tied at 2-2 the Yanks went into the ninth down 2-0. This time Scott Brosius hit a two-run home run off Kim, the Yanks survived a bases loaded situation in the top of the 11th and Alfonso Soriano drove in the winning run in the bottom of the 12th to send the series back to Phoenix with the Yanks leading 3-2.

Danny Bautista slides head-first at home plate on Tony Womack's game-ending single that staked the D-backs to a 2-1 victory over the Cardinals, propelling Arizona into the NLCS against Atlanta.

Craig Counsell, Curt Schilling and David Dellucci surround Luis Gonzalez after his game-winning hit to end the World Series against the Yankees

Could anything top the drama in New York? Well, yes it could, but not right away.

Behind Johnson, the D-backs blew Andy Pettitte and the Yankees away 15-2 in Game 6, sort of the lull between dramas, as it were.

In Game 7, Schilling and the D-backs clung to a 1-0 lead over Clemens and the Yankees through six innings on Danny Bautista's RBI double, but Martinez tied it with an RBI single in the seventh, and when Soriano led off the eighth with a home run the Yanks took a one-run lead that loomed as large as 10 with Rivera and his 23 straight postseason saves warming up in the bullpen.

But Grace opened the home ninth with a single, and the usually smooth-fielding Rivera threw wildly to second on a sacrifice. One out later, Womack lined a double into the right field corner to drive in the tying run and advance the potential winning run to third.

Counsell was hit by a pitch to load the bases, and with the infield drawn in Gonzalez hit a soft little bloop that barely reached the outfield grass, Bell scored and pandemonium ensued.

The D-backs were world champions, and fittingly, the winning pitcher — working in relief with just one day of rest — was Johnson. It was his third win of the Series, and earned him co-MVP honors with Schilling.

With the Big Unit and Schilling at their peak, the D-backs seemed to be favorably positioned for a repeat.

And indeed, the D-backs won six more games in 2002 than they had the previous year and claimed their third division title in five years, with Johnson going 21-6 and annexing a fourth straight Cy Young Award, and Schilling going 22-6.

But injuries, including the late season loss of Gonzalez, left the depleted D-backs in no shape to deal with the Cardinals, who swept them in the Division Series. It would be four years before the D-backs got back to the postseason again.

The injury-driven downward spiral continued in 2003, only more swiftly. Johnson went down on April 12 with a knee problem that would require surgery and limit him to 18 starts. Schilling had an appendectomy in April, broke a bone in his pitching hand in May and wound up making only 24 starts, and relievers Mike Koplove and Mantei also went down.

And that was just the pitchers. Among position players, Counsell missed two months with a thumb injury.

On the plus side, Gonzalez once again drove in 100 runs and hit 26 home runs, Finley had 22 home runs and Shea Hillenbrand had 17 after coming over from Boston in a trade for Kim.

Pitchers Brandon Webb and Jose Valverde topped a list of 13 rookies that played for the big club that year. Webb had 10-9 record with a 2.84 ERA and opposing hitters batted only .212 against him, the third best figure in the National League. Valverde took up some of the slack in the depleted bullpen, racking up nine saves in May alone.

The downward spiral hit warp speed in 2004 when so many players went down with injuries, the club fielded its least experienced team since expansion, and lost 111 games.

One of the biggest single blows was the loss of slugger Richie Sexson. Two days after hitting a massive 503-foot home run in April — the longest in Chase Field history — Sexson dislocated his left shoulder and was done for the year. The biggest loss, of course, was Schilling, who had been dealt to Boston in the offseason.

Gonzalez played hurt much of the year, but was finally shut down Aug. 2 with a painful elbow injury that required surgery.

But there were slivers of a silver lining even in this cloud, most notably Johnson's perfect game in Atlanta. He finished the season 16-14 and was second in the Cy Young race behind Clemens, though

Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling raise the World Series Most Valuable Player award after sharing the honor by going a combined 4-0 with a 1.40 ERA during the Fall Classic. They were also named Co-Sportsmen of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

Brandon Webb captured the 2006 Cy Young Award.

Johnson had better numbers in ERA (2.60 to 2.98), innings pitched (246 to 214) and strikeouts (290 to 218).

With the team in free-fall, Brenly was replaced as manager by Al Pedrique.

With Josh Byrnes installed as Senior Vice President and General Manager, and former bench coach Bob Melvin rejoining the team as manager, the upward spiral began in 2005. Schilling and Johnson were gone, but Gonzalez and Counsell were healthy again, Tony Clark had a sensational year with 30 home runs and 87 RBI in just 349 at bats, Troy Glaus hit 37 home runs and the club recorded a 26-win improvement at 77-85.

The upward spiral hit a slight hiccup in 2006, an emotional year of transition in which the D-backs said goodbye to veterans like Gonzalez and Counsell, and symbolically handed the torch to the what was hoped — and did turn out to be — next generation of winners.

Webb had quite a year, fashioning a 16-8 record with a 3.10 ERA, making the All-Star team, and capping it off by winning the Cy Young Award.

In 2007 the D-backs fooled the experts who, while lauding the team's collection of young talent, felt it was a year away from contender status in the West.

Oh, how wrong they were — the D-backs won 90 games and captured their fourth division title.

Center fielder Chris Young became the only second rookie in Major League history to have a 30-20 season and fellow rookie Mark Reynolds did a great job filling in for the injured Chad Tracy. Webb made a strong run at another Cy Young Award, finishing second (18-10, 3.01).

Veterans Doug Davis and Livan Hernandez had so-so ERAs, but won 24 games between them, and the bullpen, with Valverde racking up 47 saves and Brandon Lyon and Tony Pena pitching effectively in setup roles, was one of the team's keys to winning so many close games.

Although they fell to the Rockies in the NLCS after sweeping the Chicago Cubs in the Division Series, the youth-oriented D-backs more than lived up to expectations and should be contenders for the foreseeable future. And the pipeline that produced all this young talent is by no means drying up.

In 2008, Webb and newcomer Dan Haren — acquired via a trade with Oakland in the offseason — each spent much of the season in the discussion for the National League Cy Young Award, with Webb eventually finishing second. He shattered his previous career high in wins with 22.

Haren was also brilliant, nearly mirroring Webb's totals in innings pitched and earned runs allowed. He led the D-backs in strikeouts with 206 and matched that with an absurdly low 40 walks, equating to less than two per nine innings.

The offense in 2008 saw breakout seasons by Upton and Stephen Drew, with continuing progression from Conor Jackson, Chris Snyder, Reynolds and Young. Drew was the team's best offensive player in the second half of the season, hitting .326, and reaching base 110 times with 23 doubles in 64 games. He led all big-league shortstops in extra-base hits for the season.

Upton got off to a terrific start, posting a .372 on-base percentage in March and April, with six doubles and five home runs. After battling back from an injury that kept him sidelined midseason, he finished as strong as he started, belting six doubles and four home runs with a .353 on-base percentage in September.

Jackson moved from first base to left field after the D-backs lost Eric Byrnes for most of the season due to injuries. Byrnes was a huge part of the D-backs' red-hot start in 2008, posting a sizzling .897 OPS before he got hurt on a trip to Los Angeles in late April. In the first 21 games of the year, he was batting .293, with 10 doubles, three home runs and a 14-game hit streak to boot.

The feel-good story of the year was, undoubtedly, that of Davis. Diagnosed with thyroid cancer days before the start of the season, Davis spent six weeks on the disabled list, returning in dramatic fashion. He started in Atlanta on May 23, 44 days after his last start, and threw seven innings, allowing one run on just five hits and two walks to pick up a win.

After the 2008 season, the D-backs underwent a major front-office change. Derrick Hall, previously the President, was named the President and Chief Executive Officer following the departure of the previous Chief Executive Officer, Jeff Moorad.

The 2009 season was marred by time lost due to injuries, and it began almost immediately.

Webb made his Opening Day start, but never took the mound again for the D-backs, as shoulder stiffness necessitated surgery. Jackson dealt with an illness early in the season, and after being diagnosed with Valley Fever, he, too, was shelved for the year. Snyder played through back pain, and was eventually shut down for six weeks midseason, and then again for the year in late August.

The year wasn't all bad news, by any means. Haren was brilliant, making his third consecutive trip the All-Star game, and second as a member of the D-backs. He finished fifth in N.L. Cy Young Award voting after going 14-10 with a 3.14 ERA in 229 1/3 innings. For the second straight year, Haren led all NL pitchers in strikeouts-to-walk ratio, fanning 5.87 batters for each one who got a free pass.

Stephen Drew hit for the third cycle in franchise history on Sept. 1, 2008 (as seen above), and was named the D-backs' Player of the Year by the Arizona chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 2008.

Justin Upton had a breakout season, batting .300 with 26 home runs, 20 stolen bases, 85 RBI and 84 runs. His .366 on-base percentage led all D-backs regulars. Upton was named to his first All-Star Game in 2009, accompanying Haren to St. Louis.

Reynolds was the D-backs' other significant power bat, exploding for 44 home runs and 102 RBI, with a career-high .543 slugging percentage. He was one of only five N.L. batters to clear the 40-home-run barrier.

The 2009 season also served as a breakout for catcher Miguel Montero, and featured the big league debuts of several rookies, including outfielder Gerardo Parra, and pitchers Esmerling Vasquez and Clay Zavada.

On May 7, the team replaced Melvin at manager with A.J. Hinch, who brought with him new Hitting Coach Jack Howell and Pitching Coach Mel Stottlemyre Jr.

Following the season, the D-backs made some significant changes to the roster, adding veteran bats and arms in an effort to get back into contention in the N.L. West immediately. Starting pitchers Edwin Jackson and Ian Kennedy were acquired in a three-way trade to join Webb and Haren in what could be one of the league's best rotations. Veteran relievers Aaron Heilman and Bob Howry were brought in to help stabilize a very young but talented bullpen. Atlanta Braves first baseman Adam LaRoche and second baseman Kelly Johnson both signed in free agency, and should make significant contributions to the D-backs' offense in 2010.

The D-backs are well into the organization's second decade of existence, and while the first decade's success will be very difficult to top, the talent is in place to make it happen.

Mark Reynolds' season was one of the bright spots in 2009.

D-BACKS LEADING THE WAY IN COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Since its inception in 1997, before the D-backs ever took the field, the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation has been a Valley leader in community involvement.

The Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation has donated more than $15.5 million to non-profit organizations and communities throughout Arizona since it was first established. Its annual donations back to the community are more than all of the other sports teams in Phoenix combined.

The Foundation focuses its efforts on three main areas of need: homelessness, indigent healthcare and children's programs of all types, including education and youth baseball field development.

The Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation participates in many fundraising efforts, including large-scale events such as the annual Evening on the Diamond. With the dollars raised, the foundation is able to give back to the community through Grand Slam Awards and various program grants.

Two of the most valuable fundraising efforts for the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation are the Evening on the Diamond and D-backs license plates.

Now in its fourth year, the overwhelmingly successful Evening on the Diamond has raised $3.5 million to date. Comedy legend Jay Leno was tabbed to headline the 2010 event, following Kenny Loggins, George Benson and Bill Cosby in prior years.

Leno began his career in night clubs before hitting it big in 1992 when he was given his own late-night talk show. He had appeared on television, acted in a few films, and served as Johnny Carson's permanent guest host on "The Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson." In 1995, after taking over Carson's spot on late night television, Leno won an Emmy for "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno."

The Evening on the Diamond includes an elegant cocktail party and dinner on the Chase Field diamond attended by many of the Valley's elite philanthropists and corporations. Every member of the D-backs coaching staff and team sits with the evening's guests at selected tables. Sports memorabilia and entertainment packages are available for purchase in the silent auction and sports packages will go to the highest bidder in the live auction.

The idea of a D-backs license plate was originally conceived several years ago as a method of spreading brand awareness and giving loyal fans another outlet to display their team pride.

Former Arizona Governor Janet Napolitano made the D-backs' license plate program possible after signing House Bill 2727 on Aug. 11, 2006. Senate President Ken Bennett also participated in making the program possible, which became law on Sept. 21, 2006. The license plates hit the streets in the spring of 2007 and as of early 2010, more than 9,600 D-backs fans throughout Arizona now have a team license plate on their car.

Fans can purchase a state-issued D-backs license plate through the Arizona Motor Vehicle Division. The D-backs were the first professional sports team in Arizona and one of roughly a dozen Major League teams to have a state-issued license plate.

The Sedona Red and Sonoran Sand license plate features the team's "D" snake logo in the background and "D-backs" across the bottom. The plate can be purchased at servicearizona.com or in person at any Motor Vehicle Division office throughout Arizona.

Three ways in which the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation focuses its efforts in the community are through the Diamonds Back field-building program, Grand Slam Awards and program grants.

The Diamonds Back fields are built through the aid of corporate partners APS and Summit Builders, local businesses, funds from the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation and monetary donations from individual players and owners.

Fields include a backstop, full fencing, dugouts, bleachers, bullpens, irrigation, fully turfed playing surfaces, warning tracks, electric scoreboards, scorer's tables, storage units and lighting systems.

In 2010, the D-backs will begin construction on Dan Haren Field, the 30th field in the field building program.

Dan Haren Field is being built in association with Miracle League of Arizona, and will be fully accessible for kids with disabilities to experience the excitement and camaraderie that comes with playing baseball.

The fields require a special surface that allows for wheelchairs or walkers, since a typical grass and dirt surface would present safety hazards. Thus, Miracle League field-building requires more time, money and community attention than your standard field.

The D-backs were made aware of the need for such a facility by Haren's father, Dan Haren Sr., who has been involved with youth baseball for decades. The D-backs teamed up with the Harens and Sanderson Ford, who helped the team with a Ford Mustang auction to raise funds last season.

Many community groups around Arizona have benefitted greatly from Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation giving, and it begins with Grand Slam Awards and program grants.

Established in 2002, the Grand Slam Award is designed to make a considerable impact on community organizations by providing a grant of $100,000. The foundation has donated more than $1.7 million in Grand Slam Awards, and more than $5 million in various grants and awards.

Made possible by contributions from the D-backs Partnership Group, the Grand Slam Award has been given to such programs as the Southwest Autism Research Center and Resource Center, ACCEL, the Amblyopia Foundation, Clinica Adelante, Chrysalis Shelter for Victims of Domestic Violence, Arizona Helping Hands, Phoenix Herpetological Society, UMOM, Boys and Girls Club of Metropolitan Phoenix, the Arizona Science Center, Junior Achievement of Arizona, The Rodel Foundation of Arizona, Desert Mission and The Society of St. Vincent de Paul.

You could say Telios Preparatory Academy, a Great Hearts Academies school and one of the 2008 Grand Slam Award winners, is in the shadow of Chase Field, and you wouldn't be exaggerating. When the sun sets in the west, Chase Field casts its shadow toward this school that sits less than a mile away, at the intersection of Jefferson and 14th streets.

The school opened for the 2009-10 school year, and was the first school of its kind in Metro Phoenix to offer top-tier, college prep education in a low-income community.

D-backs President and CEO Derrick Hall attended Telios to present them with their Grand Slam Award. He made his way through classrooms and he was impressed with what he found. Students were actively engaged in the curriculum, with the Socratic method of teaching being used at even the youngest levels.

According to Headmaster Reginald Johnson, 70 percent students at Great Hearts Academies schools — Telios is the sixth and newest — receive academic scholarships to attend college.

The short-term goals of Teleos Prep include strengthening its relationships with the school's parent community, and continuing to close the achievement gap from where students have been when they start school at Teleos to where they should be, and can be.

In the long term, Johnson wants to develop a community liaison at the school, that can help Phoenix businesses and organizations come together to work with Teleos students and others in the community.

In addition to the Grand Slam Award, the D-backs Foundation contributes more than $250,000 annually to support community programs throughout Arizona with grants awarded in amounts of $1,000 to $5,000.

Another way the D-backs give back to the community is through a program that is in just its third year, the Season Ticket Scholarship. The organization received national publicity when ESPN The Magazine featured a column praising the team for rewarding some of its most loyal fans.

Prior to the 2008 season, the D-backs introduced a first-of-its-kind season ticket scholarship plan for fans or existing season ticket holders who may have experienced a change in personal circumstances or who could demonstrate financial need. Individuals can nominate dedicated D-backs families or individuals experiencing financial hardships.

Justin Upton greets a fan in a hospital.

To close out the year every year, the D-backs host one of the organization's favorite events — the winter classic.

The D-backs have been hosting the Winter Classic for underprivileged children at Chase Field ever since the team's inception in 1998. Beginning in 2005, though, the team decided to do even more for the participating children. For the past three years, the D-backs have provided new pairs of athletic shoes for the holidays at the event, with many of them being donated by D-backs employees.

At the event, each group of kids rotates through a series of four stations, monitored by a group of volunteers that includes volunteering D-backs employees.

At the Santa Claus station, each youngster has the opportunity for a picture with Santa Claus and a D-backs player and to receive a toy. At the food station, the kids get to sample ballpark fare and eat at picnic tables. At the music station, they have the chance to expend some energy by participating in a variety of upbeat dances emceed by a DJ. At the shoe station, each child receives a new pair of shoes and has an opportunity to talk to and receive autographs from D-backs players and coaches.

A board of D-backs and Maricopa County appointees are responsible for annually approving all grant applications. The Arizona Diamondbacks take great pride in being recognized as a leader in community giving. Our commitment to the needs of our state will continue be a cornerstone of our corporate mission.

Board members include:

Executive Committee Chairman	Ken Kendrick
President	Michael Kennedy
Vice President	Derrick M. Hall
Advisors	Dean Short
Board of Directors	Annette Auxier, Brad Nelsen, Hope H. Ozer, Issac Serna, Michael Yates, William Perry, Roy Hendrickson, Jr.

D-BACKS GROWING ORGANIZATIONAL CULTURE

While success on the field and financial stability are utmost priorities for the D-backs from a business perspective, the team emphasizes one other thing equally as much — strong corporate culture.

The culture is evident, of course, in the organization's "Circle of Success," and can be seen in first Friday luncheons, quarterly employee outings and other events. The "Circle of Success" focuses the organization's efforts on performance, community, culture, financial efficiency and fan experience, the culture has been re-energized in the D-backs front office.

On the first Friday of every month, D-backs employees are treated to lunch, along with an interview segment between President and Chief Executive Officer Derrick Hall and a special guest, which has included influential people internally, such as Executive Vice President and General Manager Josh Byrnes, and externally, such as Laurel Prieb, Major League Baseball's Vice President for Western Operations and Special Projects.

It is at these meetings that Hall also introduces the organization's Employee of the Month, who earns a personalized D-backs jersey, plaques, an executive parking space for the month and a spot on the team's prestigious President's Council.

The ownership group and executive management team met with small groups of employees through "General Partnership" lunches and "President Roundtable" meetings to communicate the organization's goals and objectives while also taking suggestions from employees. Through feedback from employees, a President's Council was formed, comprised of select members of the executive management team and a rotating committee consisting of the organization's Employee of the Month winners, to organize numerous company events to enhance the culture through the company.

The President's Council meets regularly to discuss wide-ranging organizational topics, including selecting Employees of the Month and scheduling quarterly employee outings, which have included bowling and golf tournaments, a yearly softball tournament, and community projects such as volunteering at St. Mary's Food Bank.

The President's Council is also treated to an annual trip prior to the start of the season. In each of the last three years, the group travelled to Los Angeles to see live tapings of ABC's "The Jimmy Kimmel Show" and visit Disneyland and Universal Studios, allowing the group to take in experiences at facilities that pride themselves on great customer experiences, much like the D-backs.

While the team has several avenues to honor team employees, including a monthly segment in the team magazine, D-backs Insider, the organization wanted to find a way to pay tribute to gameday employees who are, to many D-backs fans, the face of the franchise. This includes employees from game operations, guest relations, guest services, Levy restaurants, security, Team Shop, ticket offices, traffic support systems, and suites and premium services.

These standout employees are honored on the field in a pregame ceremony and presented with an engraved wooden bat and a special lapel pin by Hall and a D-backs player. Each employee also receives a framed picture of the presentation to commemorate this special recognition.

The A-Game All-Stars policy is part of the larger FAWTSY (Find A Way To Say Yes) customer service policy which is adhered to by the entire organization to further improve upon the extraordinary fan experience at Chase Field.

These are regular segments, of course, but the D-backs also have an annual United Way campaign, during which two D-backs employees are given the opportunity to take leadership roles for presentations throughout the company.

The organization's investment into its employees resulted in the D-backs being named one of the "Best Places to Work" in Phoenix by the Phoenix Business Journal and BestCompaniesAZ in 2007, 2008 and 2009, and also PHOENIX magazine in 2008. The D-backs were the first sports organization to be named a "Best Place to Work" in the program's five-year history.

While the D-backs take a great deal of pride in their presentation to those outside Chase Field, it's equally important to express the gratitude for the hard work done by those inside the ballpark. With monthly events and larger-scale annual occurrences, the D-backs are putting a strong emphasis on employee culture, to show appreciation to all team employees.

CHASE FIELD CONTINUING TO PROVIDE GREAT GAME EXPERIENCE

With constant improvements to Chase Field, including great new corporate sponsors, D-backs fans have a new and improved ballpark experience each season.

In 2009, the D-backs introduced the very successful All-You-Can-Eat seats, which allow fans to enjoy a D-backs game and all their favorite ballpark food. Conveniently positioned one level below the St. Joseph's Sandlot kids' area, the new family-friendly section features its own private lounge with plenty of space to move around plus extra-wide seats with added leg room. Fans can enjoy unlimited ballpark fare, such as hot dogs, popcorn, chips, peanuts, soda and water.

Looking toward the right-field side, fans will see the RideNow Powersports Pool. RideNow Powersports agreed to a three-year contract with the D-backs prior to the 2009 season to be the official sponsor of baseball's most unique in-ballpark attraction.

Sandlot, presented by St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center, was a ballpark attraction that developed over time, becoming a major destination point for families during the 2008 season.

For Opening Day 2007, the initial stage of D-backs President and Chief Executive Officer Derrick Hall's vision for an expansive, interactive kids' area at Chase Field was completed, when a Wiffle ball field was launched at a previously underused area on the upper level in left field. In August of that year, the area began to grow, incorporating Futures Field, a playground and a batting cage. Over the offseason, the area received an upgrade thanks to a partnership agreement with St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center.

The partnership with St. Joseph's enhanced the character of the area, which was refurbished with a "sandlot" look and feel reminiscent of old-style baseball fields while promoting a healthy and active lifestyle for kids.

In addition to the St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center branding elements, the team added a toddler playground, and remodeled the kids' playground clubhouses in an effort to be more user-friendly to accessible-needs children, maximize available space and to ease congestion within the playground.

In 2008, the D-backs also introduced the most notable and sizable change to Chase Field — dBTV.

Towering high above center field is the most magnificent video board in Major League Baseball, a 136-feet-by-46-feet high definition LED board, made by Daktronics.

Based in Brookings, S.D., Daktronics is one of the world's leading manufacturers of electronic video boards and other large display systems. The company also worked with the D-backs and the Maricopa County Stadium District on installing Chase Field's sound system, which was updated in 2006, and the LED ribbon display installed prior to the 2007 season that rings the second deck of the stadium. The ribbon runs 1,119 feet and is the largest of its kind in Major League Baseball.

The LED (light-emitting diode) video board is so wide that it is capable of displaying two true high-definition 16:9 images side by side. It also provides the D-backs video crew with many display options, including using it to show one wide video display, or to segment into multiple windows showing a video, animation, still images, a scoreboard and more.

The board has 880 native lines of resolution and provides video in up to 4.4 trillion colors. The board is eight times bigger than the previous CRT video board that was used for the D-backs' first 10 years.

The project consumed Chase Field for much of the 2007-2008 offseason in order to be finished in time for the D-backs' home opener April 7 against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

With the changes in signage and appearance that occurred concurrent with the D-backs' re-branding in 2007, the new LED video board helped to keep Chase Field among the world's most innovative and technology-driven stadiums.

It's not the first time Chase Field has been considered innovative, however.

Nestled among Jefferson Street to the north, 4th Street to the south and 7th Street to the east, Chase Field is the epicenter of the downtown Phoenix sports experience. When ground first broke on the building in November 1995, it was always intended to be among baseball's most unique parks. Then-named Bank One Ballpark was the first to feature a pool, is fully air-conditioned and features a retractable roof.

The RideNow Powersports Pool sits 415 feet from home plate and has been the recipient of many home run balls. The first was hit by Mark Grace, though not during his three years as a D-backs first baseman. He hit it prior to coming to Arizona, as a member of the Chicago Cubs, on May 12, 1998.

With all of the amenities and unique facets of the facility, one can easily imagine that it took significant time to build. The project began more than two years before the D-backs ever played a game, but it took all of that time — 28 months in total — to complete the structure, at a cost of $354 million. The park was designed by Ellerbe Beckett, with Bill Johnson serving as the design principal, John Watson as project manager and the Huber Hunt & Nichols company working as the managing contractor.

The designers borrowed from the downtown Phoenix warehouse district in their concepts, using red brick and exposed green structural steel. They even borrowed a real warehouse, in fact, incorporating the former Arizona Citrus Growers' Packing House as the south façade of the building, currently used as a commissary for Chase Field's concession stands.

On Sept. 23, 2005, the stadium name was changed to Chase Field (from the previous Bank One Ballpark) after the merger between Chase and Bank One.

The ballpark was officially opened when the D-backs took on the Colorado Rockies on March 31, 1998, though it has since been used for many events other than baseball.

During the 2004 elections, President George W. Bush held a rally for supporters at the ballpark.

The park is more known for its sports-related uses, of course. Arizona State University and the University of Arizona played two "Challenge at Chase" games at the park in 2006 and 2007, with the Arizona Wildcats winning both times. The stadium hosted the first-ever outdoor college basketball game, when the ASU women's team hosted Tennessee Dec. 27, 2000. The Sun Devils played at the ballpark again on Dec. 18, 2006, though the basketball game was cut short with just over four minutes to go because rain began to fall through the opened roof. Chase Field was also the former home of the Insight Bowl, part of college football's yearly bowl series. The final Insight Bowl played at Chase Field was won by ASU 45-40 over Rutgers.

The field has also been used to host the Professional Bull Riders Built Ford Tough Series, AMA Supercross, several international soccer matches and monster truck competition in the Monster Jam series.

One of the signature non-D-backs events that Chase Field has hosted was indeed baseball, though. Prior to the 2006 season, Major League Baseball and the International Baseball Federation used the facility to host the opening round of the first World Baseball Classic. The United States defeated Mexico, 2-0, in the first game played at Chase.

One of the main reasons Chase Field is considered such a desirable host for sporting events is, of course, its retractable roof. Made with nine million pounds of structural steel and operating with similar technology as draw bridges and overhead traveling cranes, the roof is opened and closed with a pair of 200-horsepower motors taking a little more than four minutes. It also incorporates more than four miles of cable strung through a pulley system. It opens from the middle, so the two segments of the roof can be opened or closed either in unison or independently, depending on need.

The roof opens and closes to its own music, which was composed to time out at exactly the four and a half minutes needed to move it.

On game days, the roof is left open to help grow the natural grass that is used on the playing field. The surface consists of Bull's Eye Bermuda, which is considered the most suitable grass for a retractable-roof stadium. Should sunlight prove to be insufficient, requiring more light on some days, large incandescent lights provide a substitute.

A decision is then made on a day-to-day basis of whether the roof will remain open or closed at game time. The main factor is, of course, the weather. If there is inclement weather, or the threat of inclement weather, the roof will be closed, as it will during day games in the summer when Phoenix temperatures are regularly well over 100 degrees. Because Chase Field is positioned directly north-south, the roof is rarely open during day games even in comfortable weather because of the effect that the afternoon sunlight has on fans along the first-base line.

For those hot summer games, Chase Field is air conditioned using the Northwinds cooling system, which was designed to cool down the highly populated facilities in Downtown Phoenix in 2001. The system cools the ballpark in less time than the prior air conditioning system did, which allows for the roof to remain open longer during the day time.

The air conditioning, along with the LED board and pool area, is all part of the overall Chase Field experience, along with the food and in-game entertainment, of course.

In nearly a quarter mile of concession stand area, fans can order nearly any kind of food imaginable. In addition to standard ballpark fare offered at many stands, fans can order from Peter Piper Pizza, SUBWAY, Macayo's Mexican Kitchen, Mrs. Fields/TCBY (the country's best yogurt),Fatburger, Panda Express gourmet Chinese food, Cold Stone ice cream, Gordon Biersch's famous garlic fries, and more. One of the more unique stands is Big Dawgs, where fans can order grilled foot-long hot dogs topped with all sorts of items, such as French fries, chili and cole slaw.

Like the combination of a dirt strip to the mound and a retractable roof, the in-game entertainment is a blend of old and new. While the game operations crew plays current hits with the state-of-the-art sound system, the D-backs also incorporate organ music by Bobby Freeman, who has been with the organization since its inception.

With a hot dog in hand, singing along to "Take Me Out to the Ballgame" played on the stadium organ, and all sorts of video playing on the new high-definition board all in air-conditioned comfort, the Chase Field experience is second-to-none.

at Chase Field

D. Baxter the Bobcat came out of the bag on June 23, 2000, at Chase Field. The idea for the mascot came from Brantley Bell, son of former second baseman Jay Bell, who explained to his dad that the team should have a "BOB" cat as a mascot since the team played in the BOB (Bank One Ballpark). Bell informed management about his son's idea and the mascot was developed.

Today, Baxter has gained acceptance throughout the baseball world for his athleticism and an infamous "fur" ball. In addition to his numerous game-day responsibilities, Baxter also serves as an ambassador for the D-backs organization, venturing off the field to visit hospitals, schools, community festivals, and corporate functions throughout the Valley and the state of Arizona. At every home game, Baxter can be found signing autographs and taking photographs with all of his adoring fans.

For more information on Baxter, call 602.462.6630.

EXECUTIVES

E.G. (KEN) KENDRICK
Managing General Partner

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

A charter member of the ownership group that brought baseball to the Valley of the Sun, Ken Kendrick's involvement in the general partnership took on added significance in 2004 when he assumed the role of Managing General Partner of the Arizona Diamondbacks. Kendrick has taken an active role within the organization by representing the ownership group in the day-to-day operation of the D-backs and is the organization's designated representative when Major League Baseball owners convene during the course of the year.

After receiving a B.S. in Business Administration from West Virginia University in 1965, Kendrick started his career with IBM in Baltimore. Three years later, he founded Datatel, Inc., which has become the industry leader in the development of software for the management of infrastructure technology for colleges, universities and foundations.

As Datatel continued to grow and prosper in the 1980s, Kendrick stepped down from the daily oversight of the company to explore new business opportunities. He served as President of a Texas-based banking technology company for four years in the 1980s. In 1989, Kendrick became the principal investor in a community bank – Woodforest National Bank – in The Woodlands, Texas, which now is one of the largest employee-owned banks in the U.S. Kendrick also owns Bumble Bee Ranch, which includes more than 74,000 acres for horseback riding, cattle driving, wilderness and helicopter tours, which are devoted to supporting charities that provide services to children throughout Arizona.

Consistent with the charitable ways of the D-backs organization, Kendrick is very active in his charity and philanthropic endeavors, beginning with his role as Chairman of the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation. He and his wife, Randy, were the 2007 Living and Giving Honorees for the Desert Southwest Chapter of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation. Kendrick also received the Visionary Award from the Foundation for Blind Children, Spirit of the Children Award from Childhelp USA, Today's Kids/Tomorrow's Stars honoree of the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Phoenix, River Conservator of the Year by the Roaring Fork Conservancy and was named Man of the Year by the March of Dimes. He also serves on boards for various charities including the Phoenix Art Museum, The Buddy Program, Brandon Webb K Foundation, Childhelp USA, Helping Hands Housing, Challenger Center for Space Science Education, TGen Foundation, Cleveland Clinic Foundation, Roaring Fork Conservancy, and is Founding Chairman of the Datatel Scholars Foundation.

A native of Princeton, W.Va., Kendrick is an alumnus of West Virginia University in Morgantown and sits on the Board of Directors for the university's WVU Foundation. He and his wife have established a program at WVU's College of Business and Economics focused on free-market research. Kendrick also supported the construction of the WVU Hall of Traditions, which provides a first-class showcase for the tradition of Mountaineer football and serves as a recruiting focal point at WVU. In 2006, Kendrick was inducted into the state of West Virginia's Business Hall of Fame and was also named to the WVU Academy of Distinguished Alumni.

Kendrick also sits on an advisory board of the University of Charleston in Charleston, W.Va., where he received an honorary Doctorate degree in 2005. He also founded the Freedom Center at the University of Arizona to promote, along four dimensions, the understanding and appreciation of the ideals of freedom and responsibility via published research, undergraduate education, graduate education, and community outreach. The Freedom Center also endows the Kendrick Chair in Philosophy and Economics.

Kendrick and his wife, Randy, and their two children, Cal and Catie, make their home in Paradise Valley.

MIKE CHIPMAN
General Partner

Mike Chipman is one of the three general partners who possess the largest financial stake in the franchise, and while he takes a low-profile approach to his role, his business acumen is invaluable when the partners assemble to make executive decisions regarding the shaping of the D-backs.

A graduate from the U.S. Air Force Academy with a degree in Computer Science, Chipman spent five years in the basic research arm of the Air Force, attaining the rank of Captain before resigning his commission to pursue a career in civilian life. He spent the next few years as a research scientist working in the area of computational physics, principally at Science Application International in La Jolla, Calif.

Chipman then made a huge impact in the computer software industry in the early 1980s when he became an investor and founder of Chipsoft, Inc., the original owner and developer of TurboTax®, the leading income tax preparation software program for consumers and small businesses. Chipman served as President and Chief Executive Officer of Chipsoft until 1990 and Vice Chairman until 1993, when Chipsoft and TurboTax® were sold to Intuit, Inc. Chipsoft grew from a spare room operation in the Chipman's home to a 550-person public company by the time he retired at age 45.

Since retirement, Chipman has invested in various businesses principally through an Investment Angels group. Chipman has had a hand in the development of the highly successful Bank of Internet USA and has been involved as an investor with other banks in Northern Nevada. He has been an owner of commercial real estate in Arizona for more than a decade during which time he became one of the primary investors in the D-backs.

In 2008, Chipman ventured on a dream of his to complete the 2,650-mile Pacific Crest Trail hike on foot from near the Mexican border in California into British Columbia in Canada. The trek took him more than five months to complete the majority of the trail from April through September and he kept track of the D-backs by listening to game broadcasts on his XM satellite radio.

Chipman and his wife, Evy, make their home in Lake Tahoe, Nev., where he has built a model railroad, complete with nearly 1,700 trees, a project that has kept him busier than he even imagined. The Chipmans spend a lot of "baseball time" locally in Paradise Valley after having wintered in Carefree for 10 years. Chipman's son, Phoenix resident Michael, and wife, Erin, are the parents of their grandchildren, Owen and Cara.

JEFF ROYER
General Partner

Jeff Royer's family is an original founding investor in the Arizona Diamondbacks, and Royer's involvement has grown to become a member of the General Partnership. Royer's love for baseball began in his youth as a devoted fan of Warren Spahn, the record-setting left-handed pitcher of the Milwaukee Braves. In the Wisconsin town where he grew up, work schedules were often made around the Braves' game schedule. He learned at a young age that baseball would be his primary sports interest.

Royer's business career began in investment banking. Since the late 1980s, Royer's work has focused on private equity investing but the primary focus of his business interests is telecommunications. His private and public investments include Galtronics Ltd., an antenna company, and Shaw Communications, a Canadian cable and satellite company.

Jeff, his wife, and family are all devotees of the game and spend as much time in Phoenix as possible. He makes his residence in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

DERRICK HALL
President & Chief Executive Officer

Derrick Hall stands out among his peers within the sports industry as President & Chief Executive Officer of the Arizona Diamondbacks because of his exceptional people skills to communicate with the team's dedicated fan base and by preaching core customer service values to employees throughout the organization while striving to put a competitive team on the field on an annual basis.

Hall, who was named team president in September 2006 and later added the title of CEO in January 2009, revitalized the culture throughout the organization by developing mission and values statements for all employees, including a "Circle of Success" to focus the organization's efforts on fan experience, performance, community, culture and financial efficiency. He created a President's Council, comprised of select members of the executive management team and a rotating committee consisting of the organization's Employee of the Month winners, to organize numerous company culture events throughout the year. Hall also established employee recognition programs like "A-Game All-Stars" to reward game-day employees for exceptional service on a monthly basis throughout the season. The organization's investment in its employees resulted in the D-backs becoming the first sports organization to be named a "Best Places to Work" by the Phoenix Business Journal and BestCompaniesAZ for three consecutive years from 2007-09, as well as by PHOENIX magazine in 2008.

Hall also routinely communicates with D-backs fans as part of his "one fan at a time" concept by answering every letter, email or phone call. He conducts monthly chats on the Internet and spends most of his time at home games communicating with the fans in the stands to ensure their fan experience at Chase Field is exceptional. Numerous fan experience enhancements at Chase Field were added under Hall's leadership, including the high-definition video scoreboard in center field, the St. Joseph's Hospital and Medical Center's Sandlot on the upper level, the Miller Lite Diamond Club, All-You-Can-Eat Seats on the Insight Diamond level and value-item pricing at concession stands and Team Shop locations throughout the ballpark. Hall also installed a FAWTSY (Find A Way To Say Yes) customer service policy throughout the organization to further improve upon the extraordinary fan experience at Chase Field.

Hall has also been invaluable in the community establishing relationships with civic leaders and serving on the board of the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation, which has given back $7.8 million to non-profit organizations throughout Arizona in the past four years under Hall's direction and a total of $15.5 million since its inception in 1997. He established a first-of-its-kind season ticket scholarship program for fans or existing season ticket holders who may have experienced a change in circumstances, which resulted in a total of 37 families being given full season tickets worth a combined total value of more than $200,000 since 2008. Hall currently serves on 26 boards, including the Arizona Mexico Commission, Great Hearts Academies, Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, Greater Phoenix Convention & Visitors Bureau, Muscular Dystrophy Association, National Advisory Council for Pancreatic Cancer and US Airways Education Foundation. He was the Valley of the Sun United Way's 2009-10 campaign chairman that raised more than $47 million throughout the Phoenix area, including $212,500 from the D-backs organization that went to 24 Valley-based children's non-profit organizations. Hall has also raised money by serving as an event chairman for the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation (JDRF), Southwest Autism Research & Resource Center (SARRC) and the Foundation for Blind Children.

In 2009, Hall negotiated a landmark deal with the Salt River Pima-Maricopa Indian Community to move the D-backs' Spring Training operations from Tucson, Ariz. to a new two-team facility that will be shared with the Colorado Rockies in Scottsdale, Ariz. beginning in 2011. The multipurpose facility will include an 11,000-seat capacity ballpark on 140 acres of scenic landscape that has unmatched views of Camelback Mountain, the McDowell Mountains, Four Peaks, Red Mountain and the Superstition Mountains. The site near Indian Bend Road and the Loop 101 will be the first U.S. professional sports facility built on Indian land.

Hall now gives numerous keynote speeches to various groups or conventions throughout the country about his unique vision on leadership, customer service and culture. He donates all speaking engagement fees back to the Arizona Diamondbacks Foundation and other non-profit organizations he supports.

Hall originally joined the D-backs in May 2005 as Senior Vice President, Communications and served in numerous other categories until being named president. Prior to joining the D-backs, Hall made a brief stop as Senior Vice President, Corporate Communications for KB Home, a Fortune 500 company based in Los Angeles, where he increased the brand awareness of the nation's fifth-largest homebuilder. He spent parts of 12 seasons with the Los Angeles Dodgers, joining the organization's Single-A Florida State League affiliate in Vero Beach, Fla., in 1992 and departing as the club's Senior Vice President, Communications in 2004. In between, he served key roles during three ownership changes with the Dodgers and was recognized for reuniting Fernando Valenzuela with the organization after hiring him as a color analyst for the team's Spanish radio broadcasts in 2003.

Hall stepped outside of baseball for employment during the 1999 season, first as a member of the media as a host for a three-hour morning talk show on the Dodgers' flagship station (XTRA 1150 AM) and as host of the "Dodger Game Day" pre-game radio show when the team played at Dodger Stadium. He also had a stint in front of the camera as a weekend sports anchor at KNBC-TV (Ch. 4) in Los Angeles.

Hall received a bachelor's degree from Arizona State University, where he was named "Man of the Year" in 1991, in broadcasting and journalism and a master's degree from Ohio University in sports administration. In 2002, he was inducted into the ASU Walter Cronkite School of Journalism and Mass Communications Alumni Hall of Fame and was awarded the ASU Young Alumni Achievement Award in 2003. In 2006, Ohio University's Sports Administration Program awarded Hall as the 25th recipient of the Charles R. Higgins Distinguished Alumnus Award. Hall was the keynote speaker for ASU's Cronkite school convocation in December 2008, becoming the first Cronkite alum to deliver a commencement speech at the school's graduation.

In 2007, Hall was named to the Phoenix Business Journal's "Forty Under 40" class, was the recipient of the "Community Lifeline Award" from Teen Lifeline and was named the Phoenix Father's Day Council "Father of the Year" to benefit the American Diabetes Association. The SportsBusiness Journal added him to its prestigious "Forty Under 40" class in 2008. The Phoenix Business Journal also named Hall to its inaugural list of "Most Admired CEOs" in 2009. Hall is also a member of the ASU W.P. Carey School of Business "Dean's Council of 100," Young Presidents' Organization and the Thunderbirds.

Hall and his wife, Amy, reside in Paradise Valley with their children Logan, Hayden and Kyli

JOSH BYRNES
Executive Vice President & General Manager

Josh Byrnes enters his fifth season as General Manager of the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2010 and his 17th season overall in Major League Baseball. Since joining the club, Byrnes and his staff have developed many of the D-backs' current Major Leaguers through the organization, including Stephen Drew, Conor Jackson, Miguel Montero, Mark Reynolds, Justin Upton and Chris Young. More future stars could be on the way after Baseball America and ESPN.com ranked the D-backs' 2009 First-Year Player Draft No. 1 in Major League Baseball after the club had seven of the first 64 selections.

For 2010, Byrnes and his staff revamped a D-backs team comprised of mostly young homegrown talent that had a down year in 2009 after compiling the fifth-most regular season wins (172) in the National League from 2007-08. Byrnes had a busy offseason heading into 2010 after trading for starting pitchers Edwin Jackson and Ian Kennedy, adding veterans Bobby Howry and Aaron Heilman to the bullpen and signing Adam LaRoche and Kelly Johnson as free agents to add quality at-bats to the lineup and secure the right side of the infield.

From 2007-08, when the D-backs' 212 days in first place ranked first among National League teams, Arizona had MLB's ninth-highest winning percentage (.531) despite having the 10th-lowest payroll. In 2008, the D-backs spent a franchise-best 136 days in first place until relinquishing the top spot in September. The D-backs team that Byrnes put together in 2007 had a league-best 90-72 record and surprised many by winning the NL West Championship in a competitive division that was the first in the Wild Card era (1995-present) to have four teams finish with winning records and two teams eventually meet in the League Championship Series. The D-backs remarkable 2007 season came only three years after leading MLB with 111 losses in 2004, tying three other teams (2006 Tigers, 1991 Braves, 1996 Padres) in baseball history to make the playoffs within three years of having a 100-plus loss season.

Byrnes began his front office career in 1994 as the Cleveland Indians were moving into a new ballpark in Cleveland. In his time with the Indians, Byrnes performed a myriad of duties (advance scouting, contract research and preparation, pro scouting) before being named Director of Scouting in 1998. During Byrnes' stint in Cleveland, the Indians broke a 41-year playoff drought and won five consecutive American League Central titles.

In the fall of 1999, Byrnes followed Dan O'Dowd to Colorado as the Assistant General Manager of the Rockies. During his three years in Colorado, Byrnes assisted O'Dowd on all Major League transactions and also was involved in the club's scouting and development operations.

After the 2002 season, Byrnes accepted the Assistant General Manager position with the Boston Red Sox. Working with Theo Epstein, Byrnes assisted in all Major League personnel and contractual issues and continued an active role in all scouting matters. During Byrnes' three years in Boston, the Red Sox won at least 95 games each year, participated in the playoffs each season and ended the franchise's 86-year championship drought with a World Series title in 2004.

During his previous stints with other MLB clubs, Byrnes was involved in the drafting of CC Sabathia, Jeff Francis, Garrett Atkins, Brad Hawpe, Jonathan Papelbon, Dustin Pedroia, and Jacoby Ellsbury.

Originally from Washington, D.C., Byrnes attended Haverford College in Pennsylvania, establishing school career records for home runs and RBI, which have since been broken. Currently, Byrnes and his wife, Charity, reside in Phoenix with their daughters Avery and Darby.

Gebhard and his staff were so thoroughly prepared for the Expansion Draft that six members of the 1995 Division Series playoff squad still remained when the Rockies played the Atlanta Braves.

Gebhard joined the Rockies after a successful stint the Minnesota Twins' front office, joining the team as the Director of Major League Personnel in 1987, then assuming the role of Vice President of Player Personnel the following year. His first and last years with Minnesota culminated in a pair of World Series rings, as the Twins knocked off the Cardinals in 1987 and Braves in 1991.

Gebhard had an 11-year playing career as a pitcher that included big league duty with both the Twins and Montreal Expos. He was a player/coach in the Montreal organization from 1974-75, then was promoted to Minor League Field Director and pitching coach in 1976, a role he held for six seasons. Gebhard was part of Montreal's Major League coaching staff in 1982, then served as Director of Minor League Operations through 1986. He then joined the Twins, the organization that selected him in the 15th round of the first June draft in 1965.

A native of Lamberton, Minn., Gebhard earned 16 letters in four sports in high school. His athletic career then shifted to the University of Iowa, where he co-captained the baseball team and also played basketball.

TOM ALLISON
Director, Scouting

Tom Allison enters his fourth season as Director, Scouting with the Arizona Diamondbacks in 2010 and oversees all amateur scouting for the organization.

In his third year of leading the D-backs' amateur draft efforts, Allison's selections in the June 2009 First-Year Player Draft were tabbed by Baseball America and ESPN.com as the No. 1 draft in Major League Baseball. With seven of the first 64 selections in the June 2009 draft, Allison selected Florida high school switch-hitting infielder Bobby Borchering and Notre Dame outfielder A.J. Pollock back-to-back at Nos. 16 and 17, respectively, in the first round. He also added high school infielders Matt Davidson (No. 35) and Chris Owings (No. 41) and Boston College left-handed pitcher Mike Belfiore (No. 45) in the supplemental round along with Rhode Island right-hander Eric Smith (No. 60) and Ohio University outfielder Marc Krauss (No. 64) in the second round. The D-backs signed all of their first 29 picks and 35 of their first 38 selections.

After emphasizing pitching in his first draft with the D-backs in 2007, when he selected six pitchers in the first seven rounds of the draft, including first-round pick and top-prospect Jarrod Parker, Allison's 2008 draft was again pitcher-heavy. He selected pitchers with seven of the club's first 10 selections, including first-round pick Daniel Schlereth out of the University of Arizona and supplemental pick Wade Miley out of Southeastern Louisiana University.

Allison came to the D-backs after spending the previous seven seasons (2000-06) as a scouting crosschecker for the Milwaukee Brewers. He was a member of the New York Mets organization for 10 years in capacities such as Area Scouting Supervisor (1996-99), Assistant Scouting Director (1995-96) and a player and coach in the minor league system from 1990-94.

Allison is a graduate of Chapman University in Orange, Calif., where he holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Legal Studies. He was also a member of the 1986 Loyola Marymount University team that advanced to the College World Series.

WILLIAMS' COACHING HISTORY

2007	Interim Manager, Mobile Baybears (Southern League)
2010-present	First Base Coach, Arizona Diamondbacks

KEN CRENSHAW
Head Athletic Trainer

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Ken Crenshaw is in his fifth season with the Arizona Diamondbacks after a 10-year stint with the Tampa Bay Devil Rays, the last three of which were as the Major League head athletic trainer. The 2005 Rays medical staff was voted Major League Training Staff of the Year by their peers, the Professional Athletic Trainers Association (PBATS). The previous year in 2004, Crenshaw's staff earned the distinction of Medical Staff of the Year by Baseball Prospectus.

Prior to his promotion as the head athletic trainer for the Rays, Crenshaw spent five seasons as the assistant Major League trainer. Before the Devil Rays fielded a big league club in 1998, Crenshaw worked for two years as the organization's minor league medical/strength and conditioning coordinator.

Crenshaw's professional baseball training experience also featured a four-year stint as the strength and conditioning coordinator with the Atlanta Braves, and three seasons as an athletic trainer in the Pittsburgh Pirates' chain.

Crenshaw's arrival in Arizona is somewhat of a homecoming for the native of Carrizozo, N.M., graduating from nearby New Mexico State University with a degree in sports medicine. He is a certified member of the National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA) and the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA).

He and his wife, Robyn, have three sons, Wacy, Wyatt and Dustin.

DAVE EDWARDS
Assistant Athletic Trainer

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Dave Edwards is in his 13th season as the assistant athletic trainer with the Major League club, though he's one of the organization originals, working a pair of minor league seasons. The 45-year old's baseball training career started in the Arizona chain in 1996 for the Rookie League entry, then it was on to High Desert, working for the California League champs in 1997. Edwards' bilingual skills are a terrific asset in the training room, eliminating any potential medical communication difficulties with Spanish speaking players, as well as serving part-time as an interpreter.

A native of Deming, N.M., Edwards received a degree in athletic training from New Mexico State University in 1988. During his final days at New Mexico State, Edwards began plying his trade in pro baseball with Pocatello and Everett in the Giants' chain from 1987-90. He earned his Master's in athletic training from the University of Nevada in 1991, then returned to the Valley as the head athletic trainer at Grand Canyon University from 1991-96. He was also the assistant trainer for three seasons for the Arizona Rattlers of the Arena Football League.

Edwards is single and makes his home in Scottsdale.

ROGER RILEY
Senior Director, Team Travel

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Roger Riley is in his 13th season with the D-backs and 21st season in Major League Baseball. He began his D-backs career as the Director, Team Travel in the winter of 1997, then added the duties of Clubhouse Manager prior to the World Series season of 2001. As if being a member of a World Championship team wasn't enough, he capped that year by earning the 2001 Traveling Secretary of the Year award, as voted by his peers in Major League Baseball. Aside from his regular duties on the road, he assists baseball operations when the needs arise regarding player transactions and computer work.

Riley doesn't have much of an "offseason" as evidenced by his departure for the MLB clubhouse manager meetings just 72 hours after the D-backs won the World Series title in 2001. He spends the majority of the winter signing hotel and charter aircraft contracts for the upcoming year. As the season commences he arranges for ground transportation in each city and makes sure the hotel is prepared for the team's arrival with room keys in hand, regardless of the hour. Riley also handles player ticket requests both at home and on the road.

His role with the D-backs includes work on the schedule, and making sure that game times both at home and on the road are within the guidelines of Major League Baseball. Riley also works on the exhibition schedule with other Cactus League clubs and coordinates the travel plans for all players and staff members as they prepare for the six-week stay in Tucson.

Baseball was far from uncharted territory for Riley, who played college ball at the University of Kansas. It was there he began working as a statistician, and spent 19 years with a variety of network television assignments, including the Bowl Championship Series title game in the Sugar Bowl in 2000. Upon joining the Padres in 1990, Riley was the Assistant Director of Media Relations, then for two seasons worked as both the Director of Media Relations and the Travel Director. He departed from the media chair after the 1996 season and combined his travel responsibilities with Baseball Administration, working with the General Manager.

He and his wife, Donna, have three daughters, Taylor, Shannon and Ashley, and three grandsons, and make their home in Chandler.

Visiting Clubhouse/ Equipment Manager

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Raised in San Diego, Bob Doty made a tough decision but made the move to Arizona in the winter prior to the 1998 season, assuming the same role he held in the Padres' organization for a dozen seasons. Adept in all phases of the equipment operation, Doty is also in charge of ordering and stocking equipment for the major league and minor league clubs. He joined the D-backs after a 20-year stay in his hometown with the Padres.

The role of the visiting clubhouse attendant is an all-encompassing position including unpacking each team when their equipment arrives at Chase Field, regardless of the time of day, while also cleaning all of the uniforms and making sure the clubhouse is properly catered for the visiting players.

A graduate of University High School in San Diego, Doty has two daughters, Lauren and Sarah, and resides in Phoenix.

JOE BLACK

On May 17, 2002, Major League Baseball and the Arizona Diamondbacks suffered a great loss with the passing of Joseph Black, Jr.. He began his playing career in the Negro Leagues and shuffled through various professional leagues before making his Major League debut in 1952 with the Brooklyn Dodgers as a teammate of Jackie Robinson. In his rookie season, Joe made baseball history when he became the first African-American pitcher to win a World Series game and was eventually named the National League Rookie of the Year.

Joe remained an integral part of baseball following his playing days. As Vice President of B.A.T., the Baseball Assistance Team, he dedicated his time to helping fellow baseball players who had fallen on hard times. He contributed his vast knowledge of the game as a consultant to the Commissioner of Major League Baseball. A resident of Phoenix, he worked in the D-backs' Community Affairs department, sharing his stories as a guest speaker for numerous community groups.

Beyond baseball, Joe was a pioneer in the business world and worked tirelessly to impact the civil and human rights advancements for minorities.

In remembrance of Joe, a baseball bearing his name hangs from the rafters of Chase Field, along with the retired number of his former Brooklyn Dodger teammate Jackie Robinson.

The Arizona Fall League honors Joe's memory with the Joe Black Most Valuable Player Award. Here is a list of recipients:

- His sinker proved effective as he led all starters with a 3.55 groundball-to-flyball ratio, easily outdistancing Boston's Derek Lowe (2.87), the only starting pitcher Webb trailed in that category during 2003.

2003

- Named the Major League Rookie of the Year by Baseball America.
- His ERA was fourth-best in the NL and sixth in the Majors, while his 172 strikeouts easily led all rookies…he limited opponents to a .212 average (140-for-659), good for third in the NL.
- Made 28 starts and led all rookies with 21 quality starts, including 16 in which he worked 6.0 innings and allowed 2 or fewer earned runs.
- His first recall was on April 22 and he debuted that night with a scoreless frame of relief @ Expos.
- Made his first Major League start 5 days later with a 6-1 win in the first game of an April 27 doubleheader @ Mets, tossing 7.0 shutout innings, allowing only 3 hits and a walk while recording 10 strikeout…his 10-strikeout performance started an afternoon that saw the D-backs set a Major League record for most strikeouts in a doubleheader, as 27 Mets fanned during the day…within minutes of securing the win, he was optioned back to Tucson to make room on the roster for Randy Johnson, who was coming off the disabled list to start the nightcap of the twinbill.
- Following Johnson's 12-strikeout performance that resulted in a 7-3 win, he once again experienced swelling in his right knee and required arthroscopic surgery which necessitated Webb's second recall…his Big Apple outing started a streak of 13 consecutive quality starts to begin his career, the longest streak in the Majors since Montreal's Steve Rogers had 16 in a row in 1973.

Credit Arizona Diamondbacks for home run distances from 1998-2005.
Credit HitTracker for home run distances from 2006-2009 – True Distance (a.k.a. Actual Distance) - If the home run flew uninterrupted all the way back to field level, the actual distance the ball traveled from home plate, in feet. If the ball's flight was interrupted before returning all the way down to field level (as is usually the case), the estimated distance the ball would have traveled if its flight had continued uninterrupted all the way down to field level.

2001 WORLD SERIES - NOTEBOOK

- The D-backs entered the World Series with Craig Counsell as the only active player in possession of a World Championship ring while the Yankees were 3-time defending champs.
- Randy Johnson and Curt Schilling were the second co-MVP's in World Series history joining the Los Angeles Dodger trio of Ron Cey, Pedro Guerrero and Steve Yeager…it marked the 20th and 21st time a starting pitcher won the award, first since Florida's Livan Hernandez in 1997.
- It was the third time in World Series history that the home team won every game, joining the Twins against St. Louis in 1987, and Twins against Atlanta in 1991.
- The D-backs outscored New York 31-5 in the 4 wins, and were outscored 9-6 in the trio of 1-run losses in Bronx.
- The D-backs were the fastest expansion team to get to the Fall Classic a year quicker than Florida in 1997…other expansion clubs to make the World Series and the year they qualified - Mets (eighth year), Royals (12th year), Seattle Pilots/Milwaukee Brewers (14th year), San Diego (16th year), Toronto (16th year)…remaining expansion clubs that have not appeared in the Series include the Angels, Senators/Rangers, Colt 45's/Astros, Expos, Mariners, Rockies and Devil Rays.
- Arizona pitching held the Yankees to .183 team average (42-for-229), the lowest average ever in a 7 or 8 game World Series…previous low was .185 by St. Louis vs. Kansas City in 1985.
- Arizona's overall staff ERA of 1.94 was lowest in World Series play since Cincinnati's 1.70 mark in a 4-game sweep of Oakland in 1990 and lowest in a 7-game set since Kansas City had a 1.89 mark in '85 vs. the Cardinals.
- The D-backs were the first team in 80 years to win the first 2 games they ever played in the World Series, the fourth team overall joining the 1914 Boston Braves, 1919 Cincinnati Reds and 1921 New York Yankees.
- The walk-off finish to Game 7 was the 11th overall "sudden death" ending to a World Series, the third in a row that involved a 7-game series…the last was the 1997 finish when Craig Counsell scored the tie-breaking run in the 10th inning as Florida defeated Cleveland…the other was Minnesota's 10th inning win over the Braves in the Metrodome in 1991.
- The D-backs are the 19th team to win the series after trailing 3 games to 2…it was also the 11th time a team won Games 6 and 7 at home.
- It was the first time the Yankees were involved in a Game 7 of any postseason series since the 1964 World Series went to the limit against St. Louis.
- The D-backs snapped New York's postseason series streak at 11, handing the Bronx Bombers their first series loss since the 5-game Division Series with Cleveland in 1997.
- When Curt Schilling and Roger Clemens hooked up in the final game, it marked the sixth time 20-game winners squared off in the seventh game, first since John Tudor (St. Louis) and Bret Saberhagen (Kansas City) in 1985.
- The 15-2 win in Game 6 alone was worth the following tidbits:
  - …The D-backs recorded a World Series-record 22 hits.
  - …The 15 runs tied with Toronto for third highest in a World Series game.
  - …The 13-run margin of victory tied for second best ever matching the Yankees' 16-3 win over Pittsburgh in Game 2 of 1960 World Series, and was the second-highest ever, just behind an 18-4 Yankee win in Game 2 of the 1936 win over the Giants.
  - …The 15-0 lead after 5 innings tied the biggest lead by any team at any time in World Series game…the Yankees had a 16-1 lead in Game 2 of the '60 series against Pittsburgh.
  - …Arizona's 8-run third inning marked the best inning since Game 6 of 1968 series when Detroit scored 10 times in third inning of 13-1 win over St. Louis.

2005 ORGANIZATION OF THE YEAR

The Arizona Diamondbacks were named the Topps Organization of the Year for 2005 during the annual Baseball Winter Meetings held in December 2004 in Dallas. It was the first such award for the D-backs, who have had a minor league system in place since 1996, with the big league club beginning play two years later.

The Topps Baseball Organization of the Year Award is presented annually to a Major League organization based on the number of players in their system who have received Topps awards during the season. Points are awarded for four different minor league categories including All-Star players, Players of the Month, the Trautman and Taylor Spink Award recipients, and for Major League rookies who made the Topps Rookie All-Star team.

The D-backs' individual winners were: Phil Avlas (August P.O.M. - California League); Lorenzo Cain (Trautman Award - Arizona League); Matt Elliott and Carlos Gonzalez (Single-A All-Star Team - Midwest League); Andy Green (Triple-A All-Star Team/Trautman Award - Pacific Coast League); Conor Jackson (Triple-A All-Star Team - Pacific Coast League); Miguel Montero (May P.O.M. - California League); Dustin Nippert (August P.O.M. - Southern League); and Dan Uggla (Double-A All-Star Team - Southern League).

D-BACKS BROADCASTERS

DARON SUTTON
Television Play-By-Play

Daron Sutton enters his fourth season in 2010 as the Arizona Diamondbacks' primary play-by-play announcer on FOX Sports Arizona with color analyst Mark Grace.

Sutton came to the D-backs in 2007 after five years in a similar capacity with the Milwaukee Brewers. During his tenure in Milwaukee, Sutton won a 2003 Emmy Award in the category of Individual Excellence on Camera from the Chicago/Midwest Chapter. He has been nominated for regional Emmys on four other occasions. Sutton has also done play-by-play on FOX Saturday Baseball broadcasts and has served annually as the voice of the nationally televised Aflac All American Baseball Classic.

The son of Hall of Fame pitcher and current Atlanta Braves radio broadcaster Don Sutton, Sutton spent two seasons as a radio play by play announcer for the Anaheim Angels, and also hosted the club's pre- and post-game radio shows. He also spent two seasons calling Atlanta Braves games on FSN South. While in Atlanta, Sutton handled SEC telecasts of men's and women's basketball, swimming and diving, gymnastics, track and field and volleyball.

Sutton completed his second season as the play-by-play broadcaster for Arizona State's men basketball games on FOX Sports Arizona this past offseason while also broadcasting games for the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee men's basketball team, which he has called for the past six years.

Sutton pitched two seasons in the Angels and Braves organizations, and graduated from Auburn University-Montgomery in 1992 with a degree in communications.

Community involvement is a high priority with Sutton. He and his wife, Kristin, host the annual "Sutton Strokes for Little Folks" golf tournament in the Valley to benefit the Southwest Autism Research and Resource Center (SARRC). He also has regular involvement with Arizona Quest for Kids, Make-A-Wish Foundation of Arizona, Special Olympics Arizona and the Tempe Sports Authority Courage Awards. Sutton regularly visits local schools to speak on the importance of reading and education.

Sutton and his wife are the proud parents of two daughters, Abbey and Lilly.

MARK GRACE
Television Analyst

Mark Grace enters his seventh season in 2010 as the Arizona Diamondbacks color analyst on FOX Sports Arizona with play-by-play announcer Daron Sutton. Since 2007, Grace has also served as a color analyst for select FOX Saturday Baseball broadcasts and as a studio analyst on FOX's pregame shows at the World Series. Grace's previous broadcasting experience was as an analyst for ESPN Radio during the 1999 and 2000 National League Division Series.

Grace made a smooth transition to the broadcast booth after retiring from a distinguished 16-year Major League playing career following the 2003 season with the D-backs. He ended his career with 2,445 hits, a .303 average, .383 on-base percentage, 511 doubles, 173 home runs and 1,146 RBI in 2,245 Major League games and never finished a season with more strikeouts than walks. He was a three-time All-Star and four-time winner of the Rawlings Gold Glove Award, anchoring first base for both the D-backs and Chicago Cubs. His 1,754 hits and 364 doubles during the 1990s decade were the most of any Major League player. Grace's 511 doubles and .990 career fielding percentage are better than any other first baseman in the National Baseball Hall of Fame.

After 13 seasons with the Cubs from 1988-2000, Grace joined the D-backs in 2001 and was an integral part of the club's World Championship team that year. His single to lead off the ninth inning of Game 7 ignited the rally that led to a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees. He also went 6-for-16 in the 2001 National League Championship Series against Atlanta.

Grace also volunteers his time in the community for noteworthy causes. He held the second annual Mark Grace Celebrity Golf Invitational this past offseason to raise funds for the Boys & Girls Clubs of Greater Scottsdale. Grace also was the grand marshal for the Fort McDowell Fiesta Bowl Parade prior to the 2008 Tostitos Fiesta Bowl between West Virginia and Oklahoma.

Grace is the father of two boys, Jackson and Preston, and resides in Paradise Valley.

JOE GARAGIOLA
Television Analyst

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Any baseball team would love to have a member of the broadcasters' wing of the National Baseball Hall of Fame available to pinch-hit, and the D-backs have got just that as Joe Garagiola returns for his 13th season as a color analyst on select team broadcasts on FOX Sports Arizona.

Garagiola signed with his hometown St. Louis Cardinals at age 16 and made his Major League debut at age 20 in 1946. A left-handed hitting catcher, he was 6-for-19 in five World Series games in 1946 as a rookie, including going 4-for-5 with 3 RBI in Game 4 against the Red Sox. Garagiola went on to bat .257 with 42 home runs and 255 RBI in 676 games during a nine-year Major League career with the Cardinals, Pittsburgh Pirates, Chicago Cubs and New York Giants.

Garagiola turned to broadcasting following his retirement as a player, calling Cardinals radio broadcasts on KMOX with Harry Caray and Jack Buck from 1955-62. In 1961, he started his nearly 30-year association with NBC and teamed with Bob Wolff, By Saam and George Kell on national baseball broadcast for the network during the 1960s.

Garagiola called New York Yankees games with Red Barber from 1965-67 and alternated play-by-play duties with Curt Gowdy on NBC from 1974-76. He teamed with analyst Tony Kubek on NBC from 1976-82 before shifting to color commentary when Vin Scully joined the network in 1983. Garagiola and Scully were NBC's No. 1 baseball broadcast team from 1983-88, calling each Saturday's "Game of the Week," three All-Star Games, three National League Championship Series and three World Series. He later had a brief stint as a color analyst for the California Angels.

Besides calling baseball broadcasts, Garagiola was a panelist on NBC's "Today" from 1967-73 and again from 1990-92. He occasionally guest-hosted the "Tonight Show Starring Johnny Carson" and hosted numerous game shows in the late 1960s and 1970s, including "He Said, She Said," "Joe Garagiola's Memory Game," "Sale of the Century," "To Tell the Truth" and "Strike It Rich." Garagiola also hosted the "Baseball World of Joe Garagiola" and the Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show.

For his numerous contributions to baseball broadcasting, Garagiola was enshrined in Cooperstown as the Ford C. Frick Award recipient in 1991. The D-backs also renamed the broadcast wing of the press box at Chase Field in Garagiola's honor on Sept. 20, 2009. The broadcasting section of the press box now includes a 50-foot photo timeline of Garagiola's career and the home broadcast booth is called the "Joe Garagiola Broadcast Booth."

Garagiola has been extremely active in the community and was honored as the 1998 recipient of the Children's MVP Award presented by the Jim Eisenreich Foundation. He works tirelessly for the Baseball Assistance Team, and is very visible at Major League Spring Training camps, educating players on the evils of spit tobacco. Garagiola was honored in 2001 by the Arizona Chamber of Commerce for his work in the community, which includes his efforts on behalf of the St. Peter's Indian Mission in the Gila River Indian Community. Nicknamed "Awesome Fox" by the staff of St. Peter's, the baseball field at St. Peter's School is named "Awesome Fox Field" in his honor.

Garagiola is the author of several baseball books, including "Just Play Ball," with the forward written by his lifelong friend, Yogi Berra.

Garagiola and his wife, Audrey, reside in Scottsdale. His son, Joe Jr., was the D-backs' General Manager from 1995-2005 and is currently a Senior Vice President of Baseball Operations for Major League Baseball, while his other son, Steve, is a reporter and anchor for WDIV-TV in Detroit. His daughter, Gina, has worked as a reporter for KTVK-TV in Phoenix and is currently a freelance writer for numerous publications.

GREG SCHULTE
Radio Play-By-Play

ARIZONA DIAMONDBACKS

Name a memorable moment in the history of the Arizona Diamondbacks, and Greg Schulte has described it as it happened.

Schulte, whose voice will forever be linked with one of baseball's greatest moments as he delivered the call of Luis Gonzalez's ninth-inning single to win the Game 7 of the 2001 World Series, has been the link between D-backs fans and their team since the club first took the field in 1998. Like the D-backs themselves, Schulte embarks on his 13th season of calling Major League Baseball in 2010. His passion for the game of baseball comes through in every broadcast, and has earned Schulte praise from fans and fellow broadcasters alike as he will call his 2,000th game for the D-backs during the 2010 season.

A part of the Phoenix radio scene since 1979, Schulte joined the organization after spending 14 years at the D-backs flagship radio station, KTAR. Over that time, Schulte was involved with nearly every major sports entity in the market. He served for 15 seasons with the Phoenix Suns, working with Al McCoy first as a producer, and, for the last two seasons, as a color commentator. He also served as an analyst for Arizona State football and men's basketball, and shared play-by-play duties for ASU baseball. In addition, Schulte was the original pre- and post-game host for Arizona Cardinals broadcasts from 1988-90. Prior to his arrival in Arizona, Schulte was sports director at WQUA in Moline, Ill., and also handled play-by-play duties for University of Iowa men's basketball.

Schulte is also active in the community, working extensively with the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society. He and his wife, Nancy, have two children, Scott and Stephanie, and reside in Glendale.

Candiotti also fills in as a color analyst on the D-backs' television broadcasts when Mark Grace is on assignment with the FOX Saturday Baseball broadcasts.

Candiotti was originally drafted by the Kansas City Royals in 1980, but was later claimed in the Rule 5 Draft by the Milwaukee Brewers that year. He went on to compile a 151-164 record, including 10 or more wins in seven different seasons, and 3.73 ERA with 1,735 strikeouts in 451 games during a 16-year Major League career with the Brewers (1983-84), Cleveland Indians (1986-91, 1999), Toronto Blue Jays (1991), Los Angeles Dodgers (1992-97) and Oakland Athletics (1998-99). He posted a 72-65 record with the Indians during the 1980s, including his best season when he was 14-8 with a 3.28 ERA in 1988. Candiotti was traded to the Blue Jays mid-way through the 1991 season and went 6-7 with a 2.98 ERA during the pennant stretch while also making two starts in the American League Championship Series for the team. He signed with the Dodgers as a free agent prior to the 1992 season and compiled a 52-64 mark despite having a 3.57 ERA in six seasons in Los Angeles. Candiotti was also the starting pitcher when D-backs' manager A.J. Hinch made his Major League debut for the Athletics in the season opener on April 1, 1998, which was a 2-0 loss to the Boston Red Sox and Pedro Martinez.

Following his playing career, Candiotti served as a Special Assistant to the General Manager with the Indians (2000-01), and established his broadcasting credentials as an analyst with ESPN, both during MLB game coverage and on the set of "Baseball Tonight," from 2001-05. While with ESPN, Candiotti also served as an analyst for the network's coverage of the Little League World Series and wrote a column for ESPN.com. He also was a color television analyst for the Blue Jays from 2002-05.

MEDIA COVERAGE POLICIES

It is once again a privilege for our staff to be of assistance as you cover the Arizona Diamondbacks. Following are the Player & Media Relations policies for the 2010 season. If you have any questions, do not hesitate to ask any member of our staff and we will make every effort to fulfill your needs.

WORKING PRESS CREDENTIALS: Pursuant to Major League Baseball policy, all season credentials issued by the Arizona Diamondbacks will include a laminated picture identification. Due to security issues, no member of the media will be allowed access to Chase Field without showing a photo ID. Daily passes will be issued to media members who do not qualify for season credentials. Media who qualify for daily credentials include: freelance writers on a specific assignment for a publication, representatives of weekly and monthly publications working on special coverage, and additional radio and television representatives when the need arises for extra pre-game personnel (i.e. live shots, etc.). Requests from representatives of blogs/Web sites, collegiate/high school media (radio, television, print) will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis, according to MLB policies. Requests for daily credentials must come directly from the affiliation editor, producer, or director, at least 24 hours in advance of the game being requested. Beginning in 2010, all daily credential requests must be submitted via https://credentials.mlb.com/Credential/login.do.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS: Daily photo passes will be issued to photographers on assignment for legitimate news gathering organizations, and representatives of companies licensed by Major League Baseball. Requests for photographer credentials must follow the procedure detailed above. The Arizona Diamondbacks will not issue credentials to freelance photographers. Please remember that priority in all photo areas will be granted to news organizations on nightly deadlines. Field photo space at Chase Field is at a premium and priority for space will be given to daily publications and wire services. There is also a small space designated for in-game photography in the front row of the press box. All photographs taken are to be used for news-gathering purposes or officially licensed products only. Any other use of photographs taken will be considered a violation of existing trademark and copyright restrictions.

AUTOGRAPH POLICY: Credentialed members of the media are prohibited from requesting autographs or equipment on the playing field, in the dugout or in the clubhouse. Any violation of these guidelines will result in immediate revocation of the credential and bar future use.

CLUBHOUSE ACCESS: All credentials will list specific locations in Chase Field where access is permitted. Members of the media must have a specific reason for clubhouse access to gain admittance. The clubhouse is the dressing and preparation area for the players for that day's game and is not a place for the media to congregate. The clubhouse will close one hour prior to the first pitch, and there may be times where the clubhouse will close earlier for team meetings. Generally, no more than a 10-minute "cooling off" period is applied after games. Post-game access to the visiting clubhouse will be determined by the individual club's policies.

FIELD ACCESS: All members of the media with field access provided on their credential will be allowed to conduct interviews during specified times prior to the start of the game. The field must be cleared 50 minutes prior to the beginning of the game, and at no time is the media permitted in fair territory, or outside the first and third base bags. These precautions are for the safety of all involved while batting practice is in progress.

LIVE TRANSMISSIONS: Non-rightsholders are permitted to transmit live reports from Chase Field prior to and after every game. All television live shots must be done in designated areas outside the clubhouse due to space limitations, or on the warning track area outside either dugout. Live television reports by non-rightsholders are prohibited while the rightsholder is on the air or the game is in progress. Radio stations and assigned correspondents for out of town reports are allowed to give inning or half inning score updates. At no time can they file reports once play is under way. Any violation of these policies will result in immediate revocation of credentials.

CELLULAR PHONES: The use of cellular phones is prohibited on the field or in either clubhouse. The only time a radio correspondent can use a cellular phone for an interview would be in either dugout after receiving advance permission from the player or staff member. Any other telephone interviews must be arranged through the D-backs' Player & Media Relations Department.

ROVING CAMERAS: Television stations are prohibited from using a camera light in the seating area of the ballpark. Should a light come on, the game could be stopped by the umpiring crew and any stoppage in play due to a camera light will result in revocation of the credential. Separate credentials will be available for "roving" the stands prior to games. For the comfort of our fans, interviews are to be conducted on the concourse, not in the stands while the game is in progress.

WORKING PRESS BOX: The press box at Chase Field is located directly behind home plate. The writers' wing is on the first base side, while the broadcast booths are behind the plate and towards the third base side. The front row of the Working Press Box is for members of the BBWAA. All electronic media seats are in the second and third rows. Game notes and statistics will be available for pick-up at least two hours before game time in the area immediately behind the working press box. The D-backs also offer additional working space, with television monitors, in the area behind the press box. A fax machine and copier are available in the press box should the need arise. The press box is an active working area and cheering and loud conversation will not be permitted. At no time will guests be permitted in the press box. The Arizona Diamondbacks prohibit any person under the age of 18 from entering the press box level on game days.

PRESS DINING: The press dining room is located behind the press box. As is consistent with all National League clubs, pre-game meals for the media will be available for a cost, and will be served two hours prior to game time through the end of the second inning. Media members must be properly credentialed for admittance to the dining room.

PHONES FOR MEDIA: The Arizona Diamondbacks are fortunate to have an ample supply of Charge Call phones in the press box. If for some reason media members feel there are not enough lines available, they should investigate installing their own line for use during the season. To have a phone extension installed for the season, or for a single visit to Chase Field, please contact Vicki Berryman at 602.462.6099.

Todo el video de televisión que sea transmitido en vivo tiene que ser desde áreas designadas afuera del vestidor o desde la franja de advertencia afuera de cualquier dugout. Transmisiones en vivo durante el partido son prohibidas a las estaciones de televisión que no tengan el derecho de transmitir el juego por medio de contrato directamente con los Arizona Diamondbacks.
